Mayfield, Kentucky

(Population: 10,228 • Service area: 70,000)

Located in the western portion of Kentucky, just 20 minutes from the beautiful Land Between the Lakes, there is an All-American city surrounded by a charming countryside of rich, green pastures and tree-lined country lanes. Welcome to Mayfield, Kentucky!

THE HOSPITAL

Jackson Purchase Medical Center is a 107-bed (all private), JCAHO-accredited facility. The hospital is the sole provider of acute care in Graves County and draws patients from the eight counties of the Jackson Purchase (the section of land between the Tennessee and Mississippi River that President Andrew Jackson purchased from the Chickasaw Indians in the early 1800s). Jackson Purchase Medical Center features a Level 4 trauma ER that sees 21,000 patients annually and an eight-bed CCU/ICU unit. Approximately 480 babies are born each year in the hospital's eight-bed labor/delivery center, which features a nursery and all-private suites. Over 71% of the 85-member medical staff are Board Certified.

Built in 1993, the hospital features a modern design that is more functional than older hospitals and more easily accommodates new medical technologies. Also, the design boasts a more efficient patient traffic flow and better coordination of services.

THE COMMUNITY

Mayfield is family-focused, offering a 23-acre soccer complex, public and private pools, community park systems, library and YMCA. Graves County is a real treasure trove for the antiques lover, with dozens of antique and gift shops. Mayfield is also the home of The Wooldridge Monuments, a large collection of life-sized sandstone and marble statues commissioned by Col. Henry G. Wooldridge. The recent addition of the $35,000,000 Luther F. Carson Center for the Performing Arts brings Broadway productions to the region. Near Mayfield is the tiny community of Fancy Farm, best known for what the Guinness Book of World Records calls the "largest one day barbecue and picnic on earth," a tradition that first began in 1881. The nearby city of Paducah has an abundance of events, festivals, antique shops, art galleries, museums, good shopping and the famous Historic Riverfront.

RECREATION

Outdoor recreation abounds in Graves County, with numerous golf courses, biking, hiking and horseback riding trails. Many of these are located in the Land Between the Lakes (LBL), the second largest area of forested public land east of the Mississippi River. Land Between the Lakes features 300 miles of shoreline, 170,000 acres of forest and 200
